All with striking features.

I could not get 20 natives to sit. The camera was under constant control & I had a contest at commencement.

The natives had hair about their faces ~~not~~ and could not be got to stand at different distances from the Camera according to size of their heads: they could not enter into the spirit of the thing. Twenty five men & I managed in our typical photo: did not appeal to the British workmen. It never came off. I hope to get a photo: of 20 young R.E. Officers, but I must off to South Africa & the matter was being up to

Dear D. Glaister

When we met at the Granville Hotel Ramsgate some months ago, I said I would send you my work a Last Thoughts: memories: and I now send it by hand of my grandson John G. Warren Pembroke College. Camb. who I wish to introduce to your notice - He wishes much later to make your acquaintance, both on your own account, and as the son of one of the first pioneers, in air photo.

My book on Last Thoughts & Memories, after over ten years fast frown, is to commence to attract attention in the U.S.A (Boston) and in England. The Children of the Sun" by W.S. Percy Manchester University. in describing the migrations of Arabian civilization to Indonesia, Polynesia & Mexico describes the rude stone monument making just as I should term from Early Egyptian Inscriptions.

A good many years ago you drew a F. Galton & Sir F. Abel & D. Conybeare. and Eaton were interested in the color of sounds & I used to send them the results of what my children & others saw.
I could always & from years & do not know how that enquiry terminated.

(the one occasion Francis Galton sent me a coloured photographs of the heads of 20 Convicts (the habitual criminal) all made into one typical face. He asked me to say if I thought I is like any one in the world. also he asked me to get 20 Scholars embodied in one photograph

I found the combined Convict photo. to be reminiscent of 3 prominent persons.

(1) Field Marshal. Sir John Fox Burgoyne
G.C.M.G. R.E. &

(2) Captain Richard Burton - afterwards. Sir Richard Burton of the Arabian Nights

(3). Joseph Barclay, Bishop of Jerusalem. 1876
